To whom it may concern;

This is to certify that Ms. Barbara Farina has collaborated with me on a number of projects; she has demonstrated strong translating skills (English to Italian, French to Italian), great team working abilities (coordinating a group of translators for a multi-volume book publication), all while continuously working on furthering her education and professional skills.

While working on the English-to-Italian translation project, for example, she was also accomplishing advanced proficiency in Arabic language, coordinating both efforts perfectly and delivering her work always before deadlines.

I strongly support Ms. Farina's future endeavours,

Best,

Francesca Bocca
